

Newcastle Human Rights Heritage Walk

Plaque in honour of Garibaldi

Plaque in honour of Garibaldi, the Italian independence leader, who was given a civic procession around Newcastle and led his country to unification and independence in 1861

Brunswick Methodist Church, Newcastle

This was the site of numerous important and well-attended Anti-Slavery Meetings around the year 1830, in the campaign to end slavery in the British Empire, which ended in victory in 1833.
